Sonoma Forge Adds Prep Faucet to Brut Collection

The new swivel-spout combines with industrial design to bring functionality and rustic style to bar and prep sink area

(Petaluma, CA, November 29, 2023) Sonoma Forge, manufacturer of hand-forged kitchen and bath fixtures has expanded its Brut Collection with a bar/prep faucet featuring an elbow spout. Like the company's other fixtures, Brut is hand-forged in the likeness of humble industrial elements. The restrained design softens the rough edges of raw plumbing parts with elegance and ease. In doing so, the new prep faucet along with the entire Brut Collection pays homage to the Sonoma Forge heritage and its Sonoma Valley vineyard surroundings, where hardworking days end with a rewarding glass of sparkling wine or cup of tea.

“The Brut faucet with swivel elbow combines utility and functionality needed for kitchen prep with an elevated industrial style well-suited to both modern and traditional kitchens. Handcrafted and assembled by artisans, no two Brut faucets are exactly alike, furthering their unique appeal and timeless distinction.”

The new swivel elbow spout design allows users to direct water flow across a wider area, providing increased functionality and ease of use for tasks such as rinsing glasses and washing fruits and vegetables, as well as frequent handwashing near a cooking or prep station. The single-hole prep faucet design features a side lever handle that easily pulls forward to turn on, making it ideal for tight sink spaces. Like the rest of the Brut Collection, the new elbow spout design is available in five finishes, including Rustic Nickel and Rustic Copper, which lend an aged look ideal for the faucet’s industrial design, as well as Oil-Rubbed Bronze, Satin Nickel, and Matte Black. Along with the entire Sonoma Forge collection, Brut faucets are made in the USA.
